REGISTER!!

The following selections show the anxiety of the Virginia papers upon the subject of registration.

Some persons are indisposed to register because they have no faith that there is any "reconstruction" in the Shellabarger business even if literally complied with. Concede this to be true, yet the duty of registering is nevertheless imperative. There is at least a military government over us; and so long as it is in force, much of its assumed authority will be exercised through persons indicated by "elections," such as the Shellabarger programme dictates. Though excluded from Congress, and disowned as a State, yet we shall have municipal governments, and we shall have Legislatures and Governors and Judges and the rest; all "provisional," it may be, and all irregular and imposed by force, but yet officials de facto. These are all to be elected by persons who now go on the registering lists.

Is it not vitally important to control in these elections, if possible? Shall we, because "reconstruction" is a mockery, therefore refuse to take a part in what at least will be a reality,—the selection of those who are to exercise State and municipal functions? To this extent the Shellabarger bill will undoubtedly have results, and results of the deepest importance to us. Shall we neglect them because other results are perhaps not to be realized? Shall we leave our acting mayors and legislators,—our State and municipal tax-assessors,—to be named by the worst men among us, and with an eye to plunder, merely because we may not have Congressmen?

In short, there is a sufficient and imperative motive to register if we leave participation in national politics entirely out of view. Our peace and security depend far more on the local than the general administration; let us see that this is in safe and honest hands! To do this we must register? —Richmond Enquirer.

A DANGEROUS DEVICE.

There are those who advise against registration until the United States Congress pledges itself to some measure as a finality.

This is a dangerous device. If the South obstinately refuses to register, a FINALITY will be offered them, in comparison to which the present one will be as nothing. Besides, the present bill is final, if accepted by the South. In this light it is regarded by the leading Republican papers at the North. The Destructives themselves so regard it, if the people will only accept its terms.—The only condition upon which it fails to be a finality, is when the South madly refuses to conform to its requirements. Every man who refuses to register but increases the severity of the terms under which Virginia is ultimately to resume her place in the Union. Let no man be deceived by this dangerous device. THE PRESENT BILL IS A FINALITY IF THE PEOPLE REGISTER.—Petersburg Index.

AN OBJECTION ANSWERED.

The Charlottesville Chronicle thus fully answers an objection to registration, with which we have frequently been confronted within the past few days. In a few words the writer demolishes the objection. He says:

"There are persons who are sullen and discontented, and who say they will have nothing to do with the business. They talk this way because they are not informed.—Some of them say, for example, we shall not register, because 'we prefer military government to negro suffrage.' But there is no sense in this remark, for the question is not between military government and negro suffrage. In the first place, we shall have negro suffrage as long as the military government lasts; we shall have that anyhow.—But, in the second place, whether the whites register or not, the colored voters and the Hunnicutt men will register, and there will necessarily be a Convention, which Convention will frame a State Constitution. Under this Hunnicutt Constitution the State will be admitted into the Union, and the military will be withdrawn. How will our friends feel then? We shall be in the Union and at the mercy of the negroes. The question will then really be, 'Whether a white man is as good as a negro?'"

PARIS.

There is a remark of Buffon's so trite and apropos that in a review like the present we must be excused for repeating it. "How much useful knowledge," said this famous naturalist and philosopher, "is lost by the scattered forms in which it is ushered to the world! How many solitary students spend half their lives in making discoveries which had been perfected a century before their time for want of a condensed exhibition of what is known!" This desideratum is largely and, to a certain extent at least, practically supplied by exhibitions like this one at Paris. Here we have the choicest scientific and mechanical productions from all parts of the world; and he is a dolt indeed who cannot draw instruction from what he sees, and, steering clear of the quicksands of mere theory, derive from practical illustrations information which will form no mean "vantage ground to him in the future."

The Boston Advertiser quotes from Ben Wade's Western speech indicating the new war upon property which Wade, Butler, and Stevens strongly advocate, and intimates that "hog and hominy," and the "juices of old rye" may have had some effect on the mental operations of the acting Vice-President, and says that his words are "discreditable alike to the judgement and position" of Wade. Whether the Advertiser refers to Wade's position before or after the operations of the "juces of old rye" is not stated; but it is easy to see that the proposed war upon property does not particularly please the farmers and landed proprietors of New England. Since Wade went West, several of the Radical papers announce positively that Mr. Johnson has not been attacked by Bright's disease.—N. Y. World.

A gentleman informs the Chicago Tribune that everything in Colorado is in a disorganized condition; that the people of the Territory are in a state of the wildest excitment; that they will be murdered if they stay there. They are abandoning their ranches in every direction, not only depopulating the country, but rendering it a matter of considerable difficulty for the mail trains to gather forage. The Indians are reported to be forming in large parties and scouring the country, and rumors of outrages in every part of the Territory are rife.

AT THE WONDERFUL REVELATIONS

MADE BY THE GREAT ASTROLOGIST,

Madame H. A. PERRIGO.

She reveals secrets no mortal ever knew. She restores to happiness those who, from doleful events, catastrophes, crosses in love, loss of relations and friends, loss of money, &c., have become despondent. She brings together those long separated, gives information concerning absent friends or lovers, restores lost or stolen property, tells you the business you are best qualified to pursue and in what you will be most successful, causes speedy marriages and tells you the very day you will marry, gives you the name, likeness and characteristics of the person. She reads your very thoughts, and by her almost supernatural powers unveils the dark and hidden mysteries of the future. From the stars we see in the firmament—the maledic stars that overcome or predominate in the configuration—from the aspects and positions of the planets and the fixed stars in the heavens at the time of birth, she deduces the future destiny of man. Fail not to consult the greatest Astrologist on earth. It costs you but a trifle, and you may never again have so favorable an opportunity. Consultation fee, with likeness and all desired information, $1. Parties living at a distance can consult the Madame by mail with equal safety and satisfaction to themselves, as if in person. THE SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, | SEATON GALES, EDITORS.

MONDAY, JUNE 24, 1867.

If these inferences or assumptions are not correct, will the Sentinel inform us?—Standard.

They are not correct. We have no confidence in either Northern or Southern Copperheadism, no more than we have in Northern or Southern Radicalism. We take the Reconstruction acts of Congress as a finality, and our principles hold us to a strict obedience of the law. Hence we advise our people to register, to vote for the best men they have who are eligible to the Convention, who will go for the Congressional platform nothing more—nothing less, as the only road we see to peace and restoration. So long as this is law, so long we observe and keep it, whether we like it or not.

GEN. SICKLES.

A special telegram to the New York Herald, from Charleston, S. C., contains the following sentence:

Under the sixth section of the first Reconstruction act General Sickles was empowered to remove four-fifths of all the civil officers in North and South Carolina, from Governor down to magistrate, for disability, every man being disqualified. Yet so far he has removed not more than a dozen in both States, and those were for official misconduct, for which there was no other remedy.

If we remember correctly, Attorney General Stanbery laid but little stress upon the exercise of the power of removal on the part of the District Commander of District No. 2. That part of the opinion which we judge was most offensive to Gen. Sickles was in reference to his exercise of legislative power, by which he rescinded old laws and old codes and made new ones.

CONGRESS.

A Washington telegram says, that after a close calculation, it is ascertained that a two-thirds Radical vote cannot be obtained at the July session of that body. The Lord only knows what He intends to let Old Nick make them do.

REPUBLICAN MEETING IN WILMINGTON.

Some nights ago a Republican meeting was held in Wilmington, which was addressed by Mr. Waddell, Rev. G. W. Brodie, a colored preacher of this city, and others. The Wilmington Journal's reporter furnishes the following report of Mr. Brodie's speech:

REMARKS OF REV. G. W. BRODIE.

Rev. G. W. Brodie, (colored) of Raleigh, was loudly called for and mounted the platform and addressed the meeting for nearly three-quarters of an hour. He said that in passing on his way to Raleigh from Charleston he had stopped here a short time and intended to have left the city that morning, but hearing that Col. Waddell was going to speak, thought he would remain. His mission here was sacred. He thought he could throw enough politics from his pulpit and there enunciate his political principles, without seeking public meetings to express them. He couldn't see how any black man could be other than a Republican; that he, himself, was a Republican, his pulpit was a Republican pulpit, his congregation were Republican, and that for his part he could see nothing in the religion of Jesus Christ, whose teachings he professed to follow, but Republicanism.

He here stated that he had the honor of being one of the Advisory Board appointed by General Sickles to confer with him on the adoption of regulations for registration.—Thought these regulations were the best that had been adopted in any district.

It was his great desire to see the young men of his race qualify themselves for positions in life. Demonstrations were perfectly natural in view of the change in their condition, yet he would like to see them qualify themselves for usefulness and office, and not let demonstrations occupy their whole and undivided attention. He did not advocate confiscation, and was sure that he would'nt feel it right to own land that way.

The speaker finally concluded his very lengthy remarks, of which this is a slim synopsis, by stating his belief in the propriety of sending missionaries of his own race to Africa after they had been educated, but at present there was too much to do at home to attend to this matter.

We presume, the above is substantially correct, as we have seen no correction. We have had it on hand several days, doubting whether we would notice it at all, but perhaps it is a duty we owe to the public and especially to his congregation in this city, to publish it. Mr. Brodie is a Northern colored man and has the pastoral charge of the African (Bethel) Methodist E. Church in this City. He seems to be an active politician and a leader in the Radical Republican ranks. His friends are horrified—shocked, when a Conservative preacher has any thing to do with politics, even though he may have no pastoral charge and may be obliged to pursue a secular calling to support a family, but we have heard no complaints nor seen any tears shed when Radical Republican preachers even preach politics.

A part of Mr. Brodie's speech makes us feel sad. He says that he is "a Republican, his pulpit was a Republican pulpit, his congregation were Republican, and that for his part, he could see nothing in the religion of Christ, whose teachings he professed to follow, but Republicanism."

In days past, we knew the pulpit and the congregation which he calls his, well. Then we thought, it was a Christian Church, a Christian pulpit, and a Christian congregation. In those days no politics were ever heard of in that Church, but the teachings were the teachings of the Bible and of Christ. Alas! how fallen. Now it has a Republican preacher, a Republican pulpit, and a Republican congregation. No doubt of it. For Brodie believes Christ was a Republican! Plainly, he is either a fanatic, or an ignoramus.

SENSIBLE BLACKS.

Gen. Swayne, commanding in Alabama, having made known to the colored population of Mobile, that he was ready to fill from their number the office in the Council made vacant by the refusal of Mr. Jones to serve, a number of the leading colored men of that city, declined for the following reasons and recommended a Mr. Parker, a white man, for the place. It is about the most sensible thing we have seen of late. In reply they say:

"They believe that the welfare of our city and the condition of her finances demand that the most capable and worthy should be selected for the responsible position of member of the Council, provided he be loyal. They desire, also, to show to their white fellow citizens that they waive cheerfully their claims as a class whenever it is evident to them that the cause of peace, and the well being of the community, of which they are no small part, make the doing of this the better part."

SLAVERY IN CUBA.

The New York Herald has received a letter from Havana dated June 15th., so that paper says, which announces that a royal decree had been received there, declaring free all children born of slave parents after July 1st, 1867, and permitting any slave to obtain his or her liberty by the payment of $250. The decree, it says, had not been made public. We presume not.

STATE ITEMS.

——At a late meeting of the stockholders of the Tarboro and Williamston Railroad, the following officers were elected: Gen. J. R. Stubbs, President, C. B. Hassell, Treasurer, and J. Edwin Moore, Secretary. The friends of the Road are enthusiastic in building the Road.

——Messrs. W. E. Cobb, and J. W. Blount of Wilson, and Mr. Hyman, while stopping at Mrs. Gray's Hotel, at Rocky Mount, were robbed on Saturday night last of money and a watch: Mr. Cobb a gold watch worth $175, Mr. Hyman of $70, in currency, and Mr. Blount of $10.

——The Wilson Carolinian says that the demand for his medicine, the Rosadelis, will compel Dr. J. J. Lawrence to build a large labratory for its manufacture.

——The Wilmington Dispatch agrees with us in thinking that Gen. Sickles has been too hasty in asking to be relieved, and prefers that he should remain.

——Rev. A. W. Mangum, Agent for Greensboro Female College on his Northern trip obtained about $2,500 for the College. His receipts in the State have only been $1,500. He is laboring earnestly to rebuild the College.

——Mr. P. C. Oates, of Duplin County, who was tried at the late U. S. Criminal Court for receiving and uttering counterfeit money, was acquitted. Colonel A. A. McCoy, of Sampson, who defended him, made an able defence.

——Our Wilmington exchanges report several robberies. Sometimes these crimes are of daily occurrence in that city and section. We are glad to know that they are less frequent among us.

——The Savannah Republican says that a white man named W. S. Flynn, who emigrated from Washington, N. C., to Georgia last year, and settled at Station No. 7½ on the Albany & Gulf Railroad, was killed by two negroes in his store on Friday night last.

The Wilmington Journal received the following from a reliable source:

"A negro woman residing in the vicinity of Riverside, about five miles above this city, left her family on Tuesday to go into the woods for the purpose of picking blackberries. She remained absent so long that fears were excited for her safety, and some of her family instituted a search for her. She was finally found lying by a bush where she had been picking blackberries perfectly dead, and by her side a monster rattlesnake was found coiled. The snake was killed and the body of the unfortunate woman examined. It was found to contain the marks of the fangs of the snake in several places, and was much swollen, showing plainly that the snake had attacked and bitten her to death."

MURCHISON'S FACTORY.—We are glad to note that Murchison's Factory, which was destroyed in March 1865, by Sherman's army, has been rebuilt by its proprietors, and is now manufacturing a superior article of cotton goods. We have seen some of the yarns already in market.—Fayetteville News.

A NEW HOTEL.—Mr. J. W. Davis, of the Mills House, Charleston, S. C., has been in this city several days past, negotiating for the lease of the property on Front street, between the Parker House and Brock's Exchange, with the view to establishing a large first-class hotel. The lease has at last been effected, and Mr. Davis will, on or before the first of October next, in connection with the parties associated with him, open what will be known as the Clarendon Hotel. —Wilmington Journal.

We learn that General Miles has ordered a body of cavalry to operate in the counties of Lenoir and Pitt. The purpose is to arrest the parties charged with crimes recently committed in that section.—Wilson Carolinian.

A POINT OF ERROR.—Col. Cogswell has requested us to state authoritatively that he had nothing to do with the suspension and arrest of D. G. McRae, Esq., or the removal of T. J. Curtis, Esq., and that he has no power to control the registration of voters, (as was implied in the letter of Mr. Curtis) but only the power to recommend registrars. —Fayetteville News.

EMIGRANTS TO VENEZUELA.—Our telegrams announce the safe arrival of a schooner, loaded with emigrants from this city, at LaGuayra, Venezuela. This schooner is no doubt the United States, which left here sometime since with a party of emigrants for Venezuela. We are pleased to learn of her safe arrival at the point of destination. Dr. H. M. Price, the President of the Venezuela Company, went out with this party of emigrants.—Wilmington Journal.

A new inlet at the mouth of Cape Fear River, North Carolina, has just been brought into use. It was at one time too shallow for any but vessels of the lightest draught, but has now twelve feet of water at the bar. It is about a mile and a half southwest of the old bar.

RYE FLOUR.—Our energetic and enterprising townsman, W. C. Troy Esq., who has recently rented the Merchant Mills on Old St., is now grinding a very superior article of Rye Flour.—Fayetteville News.

NEW POSTOFFICE.—We learn that a new Postoffice has been established on the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, by the name of Crowell, thirty-four miles from the river side.—Wilmington Journal.

For the Sentinel.

HOT SPRINGS, BATH Co., VA. June 14th. 1867.

Messrs. Editors.—In compliance with my promise, I will give you a few notes of the journey from Raleigh to this place. We took the cars on the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road on the morning of the 11th. inst. and found quite a pleasant company of fellow travellers on the train. Nothing of special interest occurred during the ride to Weldon. The cars were comfortable and abundantly provided with ice water, and Capt. Timberlake was, as usual, on the lookout for the comfort of his passengers.

The appearance of the country through which we pass between Raleigh and Weldon is so familiar to your readers, as to render a description unnecessary. We noticed that the growing crops had been very much damaged by the recent heavy rains, especially in the low grounds bordering the creeks and rivers where the freshet had caused great destruction.

On our arrival at Weldon, Capt. T. placed us in charge of Capt. G. H. Eanes of the Petersburg R. R. to whom we were much indebted for courtesies extended during the trip. Our ride to Petersburg was quite pleasant. We met with Capt. Pegram, Superintendent of the Road, and found him an exceedingly clever gentleman. When we passed over this Road soon after the close of the war, the whole country presented one continuous scene of desolation. Now the marks of war have been to some extent obliterated, and we are only reminded of the past struggle, by the lines of earth works, the scarcity of timber, with here and there solitary chimneys, marking the sites of once happy homes.

We reached Petersburg about 8 o'clock P. M., passed through in an omnibus, seeing but little of the city, took the cars for Richmond where we arrived about ten o'clock and were soon comfortably quartered at the Exchange Hotel, where mine host, Col. Carrington did all in his power to make our stay pleasant. After a good night's rest we took a walk through a portion of the burnt district or Main Street. Where, in 1865, we saw piles of blackened ruins, now stood capacious and elegant edifices. The change since that time seems almost magical.

At half past seven o'clock we were aboard the cars on the Virginia Central R. R. and were soon whirling along at a rapid rate towards the mountains. For the first fifty miles the section through which we pass somewhat resembles the country on the line of the North Carolina Railroad, above Greensboro. We pass many places rendered historic during the war, and were much pleased to notice the signs of improvement all along the line of the road. At Tolersville depot we noticed a large number of colored persons, male and female coming aboard the train dressed in holyday attire. Curiosity prompted us to enquire as to their destination. So we approached a freedman, and asked politely, "where are all of you going?" "Gwine to de Court House, sah," he answered. "How far is it?" "Bout six miles." What is to take place up there to-day?" we asked. "Dats just what I'm gwine to see," he replied, seeming to have no idea of the object of his visit. On arriving at Louisa Court House we found several hundred colored persons at the depot, and learned that they had assembled to hear an address from a colored lawyer from Ohio, named Langston, who has recently been appointed by Gen. Howard, inspector of the Freedmen's School in Virginia. He is said to be quite an intelligent man, and his colored brethren would do well to profit by the good advice which he gave them.

At Gordonsville, the junction of the Orange and Alexandria Railroad, we were beseiged by a number of colored men, women and children with waiters filled with biscuit, fried chicken, hard boiled eggs, pies, cakes, &c., which they offered in snacks at the remarkably low price of twenty-five cents. We didn't indulge, as some of the aforesid chicken, looked like it had been done brown for several days, and eggs looked very hard. After a stop of half an hour the train moved on. Here we had a distant view of the mountains, and the country became more broken. Just before 2 o'clock we crossed the Rapidan river—a beautiful stream and soon the whistle announced our arrival at Charlottesville. To the left of the town on a high eminence we saw Monticello, the residence of Jefferson, and a mile beyond we caught a hasty view of the University of Virginia. Soon we were right in among the mountains, and the scenery was grand, beyond our powers of description.

At Greenwood, we enter the first tunnel, and between there and Staunton pass through four, one of them being seven-eighths of a mile in length. At Stanton we see the Insane Asylum on the left and the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind on the right of the Railroad—both handsome buildings, with extensive and handsomely laid out grounds.

At 6 o'clock we arrived at Millboro' and took a stage for this place, arriving at the Bath Alum Springs, ten miles distant, about 9 o'clock at night. By this time we were very much wearied and wished to stop for the night. But the driver must proceed to the Warren Springs, five miles further on. Crossing the Warren Springs mountain at night we could not enjoy the splendid view from the summit.

About 11 o'clock we arrived at the Warren Springs, tired and sleepy. These Springs are situated at Bath Court House, fifteen miles from Millboro' depot. Before the war they were greatly resorted to by pleasure seekers and invalids from all parts of the Union. The buildings are large and commodious, but very much out of repair. There are several delightful baths at a temperature of 68° Fahrenheit, and one of them is said to be the largest warm bath in the world. After breakfast a pleasant ride of five miles over a good road brought us to this charming place. We were cordially received by the venerable (looking) landlord, Col. Jas. A. McClung, formerly of Staunton, and his polite assistant Mr. Ed. H. Fisher, nephew of our townsman, Dr. E. C. Fisher. We are snugly domiciled in a comfortable brick cabin, midway between the main Hotel building and the Baths.—But few visitors have as yet arrived, but they are coming in by every stage. We were pleased to find an old acquaintance, Dr. J. E. Williams, of Richmond, Va., the resident physician here.

We fear this letter is already too long, so we will defer a description of the Springs and the surrounding objects of interest until our next. W.

The St. Louis police have been taking the names of the frequenters of bad houses in that city, and are now considering the propriety of publishing the list for the sake of the virtuous.

For the Sentinel.

LOUISBURG, N. C., June 13th. 1867.

"SERGT." JO. IN FRANKLIN.

MR. EDITOR.—General "Green" is offering me very pressing battle, and if I neglect to fight him he will confiscate my corn and cotton; however, I must say something about Sergt. Jo. Be it known, then, that on Monday last the negroes in this County had a general convocation in Louisburg. It is supposed that twenty-five hundred men, women and children were present.

About 12 o'clock, the procession passed through the streets and marched to a pine grove half a mile distant, in the suburbs of the town, whither many white citizens repaired, to see the sights and to hear what was to be said by the speakers. Sergt. Jo. Holden, of the City of Oaks, was the first speaker introduced. Now, your humble correspondent had never before seen this Hercules—no, I should say, Demosthenes—of the 19th. century, and, indeed, had never heard of him only through the Hon. Josiah Turner. As he had held a Sergeant's position in the C. S. A., it was supposed that he had at least some common sense, but his harangue on this occasion showed too plainly, that the Confederate government did not know its man when it conferred the degree of Sergeancy upon this unfledged, would-be-noticed, scion of the ex-P. G. I would give you a synopsis of his conglomerated remarks were it possible, but it would have been a task beyond the powers of the most expert Stenographist. This effort was a poor compliment to the smell of printer's ink, and proved that the order of his mind was far below the medium. Any school boy of twelve summers who cannot make a better display of declamation and argument, should be taken home and put to driving oxen. What he did say was contemptible, disgusting, pusillanimous, deceitful, encouraging vice and crime, and the breaking of prison doors, and was shocking to all chaste and decent men. He need not fear social or any other equality with the negro, he is far below them in every ennobling principle.

He endeavored to abuse the rebellion and those engaged in it, and praise the radicals and excite the giggle of the freedmen. All he said was intended to create an estrangement between the negro and Southern white men, and to get them to vote for the ex-P. G.

Now Sergt. Joe, of the Confederate army, might have thought that he was not known so far from home; but even the freedmen knew that twelve months ago he was opposed to their voting, and it is useless for him to try to deceive the whites. I would advise the Ex-P. G. to send out a better drummer than this pocket edition of Holdenism.

Richard Inge Wynne, Esq., next addressed the meeting in a brief, but well-conceived address, giving them sound, practical advice. Next came James Harris, (colored) of Raleigh, who was introduced as the orator of the day. As it was generally known that he would speak, and the white citizens having some curiosity to hear him, many of the first citizens of the County went to hear him. He is undoubtedly a man of talent; is fluent and forcible in delivery, and sometimes approaches eloquence. He seems to be honest in his convictions and candid in the expression of his views. His remarks were well received by the audience, both black and white. There was but one feature objectionable in his discourse,—that of abuse of the Democratic party. It would be supposed that a man of his intelligence would more readily comprehend the motives of the radicals, especially such as the Holdenites of this State.

Notwithstanding his affiliation with the radical party, he can accomplish much good by addressing and instructing the unenlightened of his own race; but he should know that by associating with Sergt. Joe he will lose caste and dignity, and lower himself in the estimation of all good and honorable citizens. FRANKLIN.

[Our correspondent is incorrect, J. W. Holden was a Lieutenant in the Confederate army. Our correspondents who give accounts of discussions, will please bear in mind that the public are equally interested in what men say, as in what they are.]—Eds.

A Memphis paper reports secret new organizations in that city, formed ostensibly for benevolent purposes, but in one of the degrees the initiated negroes are required to take a fearful oath to murder all who abandon its ranks and oppose Brownlowism. NEW WHEAT.—The New York papers mention that the first consignment of new wheat from the South has reached that city. They add that Southern millers have made such contracts for the new wheat that they will be able to sell handsome family flour in New York for thirteen dollars a barrel.—The price of flour must tend downwards, as the prospects of a most bountiful harvest of wheat in all parts of the country multiply daily.

POPULAR MOVEMENT.—In view of the fact that Stevens, Butler, and the rest of them will be likely to have some fresh deviltry on hand in July, the New York Express urges that—

"Let the people meet too in Convention, and in great public meetings in town and country, to proclaim, in the imperative mood, what their will is, and to impress upon these pestilent demagogues the long forgotton fact that they are the servants, and not what they are aiming to be, the masters of the people."

CONFIRMED INSANITY OF THE EMPRESS CHARLOTTE.—The Gazette de France announces that the medical attendants, after having held a consultation on the state of the Empress Charlotte, have declared that she will never recover her reason. It is also the opinion of the physicians that her nervous system has received a shock which must soon result in her death.

The Archduchess Matilda, of Austria, who was about to be married to the eldest son of King Victor Emanuel, died on the 6th of June from the effects of the burns which she received by her clothing taking fire in a very sudden and unaccountable manner in one of the palaces at Vienna, by her treading on a match.

ROCKBRIDGE ALUM SPRINGS.

OPEN JUNE 1.

This favorite and delightful watering-place, having undergone thorough renovation, is prepared to receive visitors. The owners have made every effort in the outfit and equipment to render the place more than ever attractive to those in quest of recreation, while to the invalid its medicinal waters hold out new hopes of health. It may be confidently claimed for them that they have in a great many cases relieved, and in many more cases cured, the following diseases: SCROFULA, and many chronic CUTANEOUS diseases; CHRONIC THROAT, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, CHRONIC DIARRHŒA, DROPSY, AFFECTIONS of KIDNEY and BLADDER, and PILES; and, in connection with the Hot Baths, CHRONIC RHEUMATISM.
As an appetizer, a tonic, and general restorative to an enfeebled constitution, it is perhaps unrivalled amongst mineral waters. The proprietors have engaged for the approaching season
A VERY SUPERIOR BAND OF MUSIC,
both for the LAWN and the BALL-ROOM.
THE BILLIARD AND BOWLING SALOONS,
both for ladies and gentlemen, will be found in more complete order than ever before.
From the very extensive preparations now making at all the leading Virginia Springs, a heavy travel is anticipated, and, we think, will be attracted. It shall be the aim of the undersigned to keep their establishment FULLY UP TO THE FORMOSO; and they hope to see a renewal of the social re-unions which in former years lent such a charm to these mountain retreats.
Passengers by the Virginia Central railroad get off the cars at GOSHEN Depot. Eight (8) miles of staging over a smooth road lands them at the Springs.

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

MONDAY, JUNE 24, 1867.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Douglass Bell offers Flour, Herrings, Sugar, Molasses & Bacon at low prices, at his store near the market.

W. Boyd, Charlotte, N. C., Grocery & Provision Dealer, buys and sells all articles of produce on commission.

Mitchell, Allen & Co., Newbern, N. C., offer a large stock of Agricultural implements and mechanics tools.

MAYOR'S COURT.—L. Rosenthal charged with assaulting L. Levy. Fined $10.

L. Rosenthal, charged with assaulting L. Levy. Returned to the County Court.

THE COTTON FACTORY.—It is a painful consideration, that the unsettled condition of affairs, has determined the projectors of the Gingham Factory which was to have been started about this time in this City, to suspend the scheme at least for a time. We are nevertheless in strong hope that the enterprise and energy of W. H. Willard, Esq., and those connected with him, will prompt them, as soon as it can be done with safety, to put the factory in motion. Factories are absolutely necessary in this City to give employment to our large poor female population.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Hard and pinching as the times are, we are glad to see some little spirit of improvement among us. Messrs. Pulliam, Jones & Co. are excavating the ground on the National Bank lot, for the purpose of erecting a commodious store for their increasing business.

Mr. A. L. Lougee, we also observe, is arranging to erect a new brick store on the ground between Tucker's Hall and Grausman's merchant tailor's store.

BURNING FLUID.—We are glad to learn that R. W. Best & Co. will, in a short time put into operation a factory for the manufacture of the "Aurora Burning Fluid," a new article, but one which has been fully tested, and found to be the best and cheapest light now in use. As soon as they are prepared to manufacture, they will make it known to the public.

REV. DRS. CROSS AND CLOSS.—Last year, Rev. Dr. Cross, an able minister of the Southern Methodist Church, for reasons satisfactory to himself, left that Church and joined the Protestant Episcopal Church and is now rector of the Episcopal Church in Houston, Texas. Owing to the similarity of name, for several months the rumor has been afloat that Rev. Dr. Closs, of the N. C. Conference, of the M. E. Church, South, had left his Church and joined the Episcopal Church. It is proper to correct the rumor. It is a mistake, having no other foundation than that Rev. Dr. Cross had done so.

PERSONAL.—We were honored on yesterday by a brief visit from our esteemed friend, Major Seaton Gales, of the Raleigh Sentinel. Major Gales has long been connected with the press of the State, and in charge of the Raleigh Register, when quite young, and recently as Assistant Editor of the Sentinel, has shown himself one of the most graceful writers in the State. As an editor, soldier, gentleman, he has endeared himself to every true North Carolinian. We are glad to see him in most excellent health, and learn that the journal over which he in part presides, is in the full tide of success. We extend to him and the venerable Senior every good wish.

Our worthy cotemporary, the Wilmington Journal, does our excellent Associate but simple justice in the above compliments.—Our ailments and laziness, et. cet. have thrown so much labor on our beloved confrere of late, that we consented to remain by the stuff, in order that the young man might spend a few days recruiting his energies, snuffing the sea breeze and feasting on fresh fish and soft crabs. Obliged to our cotemporary for his good wishes for the old man, besides.

DEFACED GREENBACKS.—We have several times notified our readers and the public, that torn or defaced greenbacks and fractional currency, will not be recieved at the National Banks, only at a heavy discount. We received a $1 bill to-day from a friend which has a piece torn off at one corner, about the size of a quarter of a dollar, which will not pass for any thing on our streets, and for which we can only get 85 or 90 cts. at the Bank. This is no fault of the Banks, but in accordance with instructions from Washington City. But for all we can see, it is a direct fraud upon the people? Bills which have holes in them or small pieces torn from them, are all discounted at a loss. The Banks require the bills to be returned to them perfect, with all of the parts attached, or they discount them at a loss. Send us no more such bills or expect a large discount.

WESTERN RAIL ROAD.—The perseverance and indomitable energy displayed by Col. Tate, the President of this Road and the Directors, are remarkable, in view of the present state of affairs. With a Road already in debt, too short to pay well, and the Road and the State without their former credit, yet he is pushing forward his Road over a bad and difficult track, talks of penetrating and passing through the mountains to Ducktown in no great while. If it can be done, he is the man to do it.—Success to his great energy.

THE GREAT PRIZE DRAWING.—We have feared for some weeks that the "Great Presentation Concert" at Baltimore, was a stupendous frand upon the public. If so, we hope that summary measures may be adopted to punish as they deserve the scoundrels connected with it. The Baltimore papers as yet know nothing of the drawing that was to have come off on the 17th inst. We do not believe that any drawing will be had, but that the parties concerned will pocket the large amount they have received. We have just learned that the Palmers are two Connecticut Yankees who are the chief managers in the affair. We took every pains as did the agents in this State, to ascertain the soundness and reliability of the concern and supposed every thing was right, but we fear the whole thing has been a deception. Had we suspected such a thing at first, these columns would never have been open to their advertisements. The agents have been as completely chawed as we ever knew men to be.

For the Sentinel.

AMERICAN BIBLE SOCIETY.

Editors of the Sentinel:—I am in receipt of the annual report of the American Bible Society for the year ending May 9, 1867.—This Society has spread itself, like a great net-work, over this country and several foreign countries, until results have been effected that commend themselves to every friend of truth, irrespective of country or sect. During the past year, twenty thousand, one hundred and forty-eight Bibles and Testaments have been sent to North Carolina, through my agency; besides several thousand sent through other channels. Together with those previously sent, there have been furnished since I commenced travelling for the Society, in September, 1865, say about thirty-five thousand copies. These I have gotten into nearly every county to which there is any public conveyance.

The total receipts of money from the sales of these Bibles, together with donations from North Carolina, will not exceed fifteen hundred dollars. Before the war North Carolina gave the Society about ten thousand dollars a year; and if we ever become a prosperous people again, I presume, it will be repeated, for I am gratified to witness an increase of interest in this work among our people.

Large numbers of Bibles find their way into the hands of freedmen in our State, and thus revelation gees hand in hand with whatever improvement they may make.

Over half a million of Bibles and Testaments have been scattered over the Southern States since the close of the war.

The State of New York furnished the Society, during the last fiscal year, nearly a quarter of a million of dollars (234,566.) Pennsylvania forty-six thousand, Massachusetts fifty-six thousand, Alabama four thousand, Louisiana three thousand, Missouri eleven thousand, and California, with all its gold, only six thousand.

The Society has agents in Kansas, Nevada, Nebraska, Colorado, and New Mexico. It operates, either through paid or unpaid agents, in Mexico, New Grenada, Central America, Brazil, Peru, Hungary, The Argentine Confederation, Italy, Russia, Germany, Denmark, Africa, Turkey, Persia, China, Japan, India, The Sandwich Islands, Micronesia, Canada, and in connection with our sister institution, the British and Foreign Bible Society, centering in the city of London, the Bible is being circulated in Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Austria, Switzerland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Portugal, Spain, Turkey, Ceylon and Oceanica.

The Treasurer reports from all sources, nearly three quarters of a million of dollars receipts; in all during the past fifty-one years about eleven millions of dollars. One million two hundred and forty-nine thousand Bibles and Testaments were printed during the year; making, in all, about twenty-two millions, and by both the American Bible Society and the British and Foreign Bible Society, nearly seventy millions of copies of the Word of God. These have been in fifty different languages, and by the labors of my brethren in this great work, these volumes have penetrated the centres of not only this country, but of the most remote heathen countries. Large numbers of Bibles have been given to the blind—printed in raised letters—almost in every case given gratuitously to these unfortunate children of affliction.

Large numbers of Bibles find their way, through our society, into Prisons, Hospitals, and work houses, to say nothing of the numberless Sabbath Schools, Day Schools, Hotels, Steam Boat Cabins, Sailor's Boarding Houses and other places of this country, are furnished.

If any Christian man, whose eye falls upon this article, experiences an inward emotion of joy over the results so far obtained, by the Society, and especially by what has been done in North Carolina I, would be glad to hear from him, as to the extent to which he rejoices; whether it be only in inward emotions, or also in an effort to help me; and if it be so desired, any funds sent me shall be expended in this State alone.

Respectfully,
HENRY HARDIE,
Agent A. B. S. for N. C.

MEXICO.

The Herald's special telegram from San Luis Potosi is dated June 3. One of the objects held in view in the postponement of Maximillian's trial was to wait the arrival of the American Minister. The troops, however, were so clamorous for his blood that bogus reports and proclamations concerning his death were kept continually in circulation, with a view to deceive them as to his being still alive. Mejia had formerly saved Escobedo's life when he was a prisoner, and in return asked his services as counsel, which the liberal chief refused. A force under Corona had been despatched against Lozado, who has been busy for some time building up a small neutral empire of his own at Jalisco.

VENEZUELA.

The news from Venezuela is to the effect that the revolutionary movement was at an end, General Gill taking the reigns of government and General Falcon going to join his family at Coro. A schooner loaded with emigrants from Wilmington, N. C., had arrived at Guayana. The gold mines were working handsomely, and great discoveries of the precious metal were reported.

THE SURRATT TRIAL—POLITICS—INSTRUCTIONS TO MILITARY COMMANDERS—GEN. SICKLES' LETTER, &c., &c.

WASHINGTON, June 23.

The proceedings in the Surratt case were mostly confined to details of the attack on Mr. Seward and family. Nothing pointed or new bearing on the case is developed. The defense again insisted upon recalling the prosecution witnesses for cross examination, asserting that two were corrupt and two were indicted as felons. The Court again took the matter under advisement and adjourned.

There is a thorough lull in politics since the departure of the President. Several members of Congress have arrived but they are non-committal.

The following order was issued to-day:

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, June 21, 1867.

Whereas several commanders of the Military Districts created by the acts of Congress, known as the reconstruction acts, have expressed doubt as to the proper construction thereof, and in respect to some of their powers and duties under the said acts, and have applied to the Executive for information in relation thereto, and whereas the said acts of Congress have been referred to the Attorney General for his opinion thereon, and the said acts and the opinion of the Attorney General, have been fully and carefully considered by the President, in conference with the heads of the respective departments. The President accepts the summary to the Attorney General's opinion as a practical interpretation of the original acts of Congress on the points therein prescribed, and directs the same to be transmitted to the respective Military Commanders for their information in order that there may be uniformity in the execution of said acts.

The whole is signed by order of the President.
E. D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Agjutant General.

The following is Gen. Sickles' letter addressed to the Adjutant General:

"I have the honor to request that I may be relieved from command in this District. And I respectfully demand a Court of enquiry upon my official action, that I may vindicate myself from the accusation of the Attorney General, published it is presumed, with the approval of the President. Congress having declared the so-called State Governments illegal, the declaration of the Attorney General that Military authority has not superseded them, prevents the execution of the reconstruction act; disarms me of the means to protect life, property or the rights of citizens, and menaces all the interests in there States with ruin.

The Merchants National Bank of Memphis Tenn., on its own application is relieved as a depository of Public monies.

THE CAPTURE OF SANTA ANNA CONFIRMED—ARCH BISHOP SPALDING.

NEW YORK, June 23.

The capture of Santa Anna, at Sical, has been confirmed. Vera Cruz had not surrendered.—Captain General Monzano had surrendered.

A Rome letter says it is thought that Arch Bishop Spalding will return to America a Cardinal.

EFFECTS OF THE HEAVY RAINS—RAIL ROAD ACCIDENT TWO MEN KILLED AND SEVERAL INJURED.

WILMINGTON, June 23.

The heavy rains continue almost without interruption. The farmers are greatly depressed in consequence of the immense damage to the crops.

The mail train going west on the Wilmington and Manchester Railroad broke the trestle work near Peacock's station last night. J. D. Harrelson, overseer of the road, and a section master named Byrd were killed. Several others were injured. The accident was caused by the heavy rains.

Fifty feet of the trestle work over Stewart's creek bridge, on the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, washed away this morning. It is thought that the rock fish bridge, over the same road, will be washed away—the water is nearly up to the top of the bridge and is rising.

MADAME E. F. THORNTON, the great English Astrologist, Clairvoyant and Psychometrician, who has astonished the scientific classes of the Old World, has now located herself at Hudson, N. Y. Madame Thornton possesses such wonderful powers of second sight, as to enable her to impart knowledge of the greatest importance to the single or married of either sex. While in a state of trance, she delineates the very features of the person you are to marry, and by the aid of an instrument of intense power, known as the Psychomotrope, guarantees to produce a life-like picture of the future husband or wife of the applicant, together with date of marriage, position in life, leading traits of character, &c. This is no humbug, as thousands of testimonials can assert. She will send when desired a certified certificate, or written guarantee, that the picture is what it purports to be. By enclosing a small lock of hair and stating place of birth, age, disposition and complexion, and enclosing fifty cents and stamped envelope addressed to yourself, you will receive the picture and desired information by return mail. OF HARTFORD, CONN.

The Largest Life Insurance Company in the World!

IT HAS NO STOCK CAPITAL; THE FIFTEEN Million Dollars all belong to the Policy holders, which now exceed 44,000, and not withstanding the payment of a sixty per cent dividend last year, there is now a surplus of over 6,000,000,00. It has had, through its entire history, the smallest average expenses, and, therefore, it is the safest and cheapest Life Insurance Company in existence.

"That Company in which the average expenses are the lowest and the rate of interest obtained on investments is the highest (other things being equal,) affords life insurance at the least cost; also that Company is the safest in which the largest number is insured."

THAT COMPANY IS THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL.

This Company gives the Policy holder a credit or forbearance of one half his premium, and in case of early death, the dividends will always equal the number of out-standing credits.

All policies non-forfeitable by their terms. No extra charge made on policy holders living in this State.

SMOTHERED IN ROSES.

Yes; charity, I know, may hide
A multitude of sins;
But there's a proverb to decide
Where charity begins.
Should mine in future contemplate
A journey anywhere,
'Twill be a ball—a play—a fete—
And not a fancy fair.

The girls are all so very bold—
The men so very rash—
So many trifles must be sold,
And all for ready cash.
You'll find, when once you come to count
The guineas here and there,
It costs a pretty large amount
To see a fancy fair.

Three quarters of the things they sell
Are not a bit of good—
(One can't refuse, though, very well,
And wouldn't, if one could.)
They have such voices and such ents,
And such a winning air—
About a dozen pretty girls
May work a fancy fair.

They hunt a fellow round and round,
They track him up and down;
They sell him portraits at a pound,
And roses at a crown;
Scent, purses, pocket books, and rings—
Pomatum for the hair—
And fifty other little things
That stock a fancy fair.

I'm not particularly shy,
As everybody knows,
And yet I am obliged to buy
Whatever they propose.
I've been so often overcome
That now I only dare
To take a very modest sum
To any fancy fair.

They little know or little feel
What injuries they do;
A wound upon the purse may heal,
But hearts are wounded too.
This damage done by lips and eyes
Is more than I can bear;
So, charity, take any guise
Except a fancy fair. [London Society.

EQUANIMITY OF TEMPER.

Spring, that season for sweet scents and balmy airs, has gone from among us. Summer, with all her influences, which are of a depressing nature, is at hand. Under these circumstances, we do not regard it as out of place to recommend, in all the transactions of our daily life, cool deliberation and evenness of that mixture of contrary qualities, styled temper. With the thermometer ranging from 85 to 90 degress and upwards, to court its effects only weakens the joints and spirits, depresses and unnerves the muscles. By no means beneficial to humanity, it likewise defeats the projects of the just and the wise. It is an affliction, we might say, and very materially impairs amiability. If in children its indulgence be thought measurably excusable—though this is a mistake—in adults, it is culpable! If the present moderate, or the forthcoming intensity and almost insufferable heat, will have a tendency to create in you the least impatience, peevishness or malevolence—and you feel that a combination of ill results, which have gathered themselves within you, must find an outlet in any shape, retire temporarily into some secluded place, and then and there await the denouement. To pass quietly and smoothly through a a heated season should be the desire of every individual, and among the arguments in its favor, take things as you find them, keeping yourself cool, and thus master all the depressing influences of heat, as by this method you certainly can and will. Do not let any irritated condition of mind prevent you from yielding your sympathies readily to those who are deserving of them, nor your compassion to those who merit them. Remember, also, that in no instance are you to give expression to any exasperation induced by either heat, disappointment, the want of money, or even the want of bread. Passion, and rage and impatience are infantile follies. When provoked yourself you are very apt to provoke others, and thus make enemies. Allow your temper to get the supremacy of your judgment and you give way unwittingly to your adversary, and in this wise he will govern you or laugh at you. In fine, endeavor to look coolly and with calmness on the world's widespread stage, which is in reality but a series of successive events, reflections and emotions, and at all times recollect, even though it be the period when the dog-star rages, catching all its fires from the sun; when the thermometer is approaching fever heat, and when all among you are fermenting, then it behooves you to remember, that one of the greatest of conquests, is that of patient and submissive endurance to that which you can neither foil nor escape from. Keep cool, then, we earnestly entreat of you, if only that you may maintain your dignity in the presence of those who confront you. And what we want forcibly to impress upon all is this, that a man cannot be master of himself if he is a slave to his passions.

A RATHER INQUISITIVE YANKEE.—While Lord Grosvenor was traveling West, he was one day waiting at a country station for a tardy train, when one of the farmers of the neighborhood entered into conversation with him:

"Been about these parts considerable, stranger?"

"Yes, for some length of time."

"Like 'em pretty well, eh?"

"Yes, pretty well."

"How long have you bin here?"

"A few weeks."

"What's yer business?"

"I have no business."

"What are yer traveling for, then?"

"Only for my own pleasure."

"Don't yer do any business? How do yer get yer living then?"

"It isn't necessary for me to work for my support. My father is a man of property, and gives me an allowance sufficient for all my wants."

"But, 'spose the old man should die?"

"In that case I dare say he'd leave me enough to live upon."

"But, 'spose he should bust up?"

Here the conversation ended, and Lord Grosvenor walked away, evidently struck with a new idea.

THE HEAD TURNED ROUND.—A crazy man was found at a grindstone sharpening a large butcher knife, and now and then examining the edge to see if it was keen.

"What are you doing here?"

"Don't you see? sharpening this big knife."

"Yes, but what are you going to do with it when sharpened?"

"Cut old Ben Brown's head off to be sure."

"What! you won't kill him, will you?"

"Oh no! I only cut his head off and stick it right on again hind side before, just to let the old fellow look back on his past life! It would take him all the rest of his life to review it."

What a queer idea the lunatic had in his mind. And what if it were so, that every man when he reached a certain age had his face turned, and was obliged to spend the rest of his days in looking over his past life! Wouldn't there be strange sights.—Sunday School Times.

VARNISH FOR MAPS AND DRAWINGS.—Dissolve one pound of white shellac, a quarter of a pound of camphor, and two ounces of Canada balsam in one gallon of alcohol.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 32.

HEADQUARTERS, 2ND MILITARY DISTRICT,
Charleston, May 30.

General Orders No. 32.

1. Any citizen, a qualified voter according to the requirements of the Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2nd, 1867, and the act supplemental thereto, passed March 23rd, 1867, is eligible to office in the Provisional government of North and South Carolina. All persons appointed to office will be required to take the oath prescribed by the act aforesaid and to file the same duly subscribed and sworn with the Post Commander.

2. All citizens assessed for taxes, and who shall have paid taxes for the current year, are qualified to serve as jurors. It shall be the duty of the proper civil officers, charged with providing lists of jurors, to proceed within their several jurisdictions, without delay, and ascertain the names of all qualified persons, and place them on the jury lists, and from such revised lists all jurors shall be hereafter summoned, and drawn in the manner required by law.

3. All citizens are eligible to follow any licensed calling, employment or avocation, subject to such impartial regulations as may be prescribed by municipal or other competent authority, not inconsistent with common rights and the Constitution and laws of the United States. The bond required as security shall not exceed the penal sum of one hundred dollars. One or more sureties being citizens and worth, in the aggregate, double the amount of the bond, over and above just debts, will be sufficient.

4. The Mayors of cities and other municipal and town officers, and all Sheriffs, Magistrates and Police officers, are required to be vigilant and efficient in maintaining order, and in the discharge of their duties. They will be expected to cooperate with the military authorities.

5. Post commanders may summon to their aid, whenever the ordinary means at their disposal shall not be sufficient to execute their orders, such of the civil officers, and as many of the citizens, within the territorial limits of the military post, as may be necessary, and the neglect or refusal of any person to aid and assist in the execution of the orders of the Commanding officer will be deemed a misdemeanor, punishable by such fine and imprisonment as may be imposed by a military tribunal approved by the Commanding General.

6. No license for the sale of intoxicating liquors in quantities less than one gallon or to be drank on the premises shall be granted to any person other than an Inn-keeper. The number of such licenses shall be determined, and the fees to be charged for each license shall be prescribed and collected, by the municipal or town authorities and appropriated exclusively for the benefit of the poor. If any person shall be found drunk on the premises where liquor is sold, the license may be revoked by any magistrate. The tax imposed by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States is an additional charge and does not excuse the person from the observance of local regulations, nor exempt him from the payment of such other license fees as may be imposed by the municipal or other competent authorities.

7. All contracts hereafter made for the manufacture, sale or transportation, storage or insurance of intoxicating liquors shall within this military district be deemed and treated as against public policy, and no civil action, suit or proceedings for the enforcement of any such contract shall be entertained in any court.

8 In public conveyances on railroads, highways, streets or navigable waters, no discrimination because of color or caste shall be made, and the common rights of all citizens therein shall be recognized and respected. The violation of this regulation will be deemed a misdemeanor and render the offender liable to arrest and trial by a Military tribunal to be designated by the commanding General, besides such damages as the injured party may sue for and recover in the civil Courts.

9. The remedy by distress for rent is abolished. Where lands are leased, or let out for hire or rent, cotton, corn or other produce of the same, when severed from the land, may be impounded, but the same shall not be removed. Any cotton, corn or other produce so impounded shall be held as security for the rent or hire so claimed and may be sold in satisfaction of any judgment for the same, Provided, that any unsatisfied claim for labor bestowed upon the cultivation of such cotton, corn, or other produce, shall, in no case, be postponed to any demand for rent or hire. But to the extent of such claim for labor there shall be a lien on such cotton, corn and other produce having preference over any claim for rent or hire.

By command of
MAJ. GEN. SICKLES,
J. W. CLOUS, A. A. A. G.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger Bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said States until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established: Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized, affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law; and when such convention shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates; and when such constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates; and when such constitution shall have been submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4th section of the Sherman Bill:

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each State excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill:

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation: "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto; that I have never sought nor accepted, nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowlege and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office, and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation:

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for —— months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be; that I am 21 years old; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God," which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates, as aforesaid, the words "for a convention;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention; and the commanding general, to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act: Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when organized, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office:" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
